Sideshow Becomes The Main Show

BARTLESVILLE, Okla. —One of the 15 largest petroleum companies was started as a sideline to a bank which was founded in 1905 by two brothers, Frank and L.E. Phillips who immigrated here when Oklahoma was Indian territory.

Oil and gas leases were incidental to the operations of the bank. Success in petroleum led the Phillips brothers to incorporate their holdings in 1917, establishing the company known today as Phillips Petroleum.
